Why are you interested in writing for The Triple Helix?

Describe any prior experience (activities, research, courses, etc) that you have that would help you succeed as a writer. Have you been published in the past?

What issues in the realm of science, society and law intrigue you most? Please list at least two topics that you may be interested in writing about in the future.

What other commitments do you currently have? How much time would you be able to dedicate to work with The Triple Helix?
