General Instructions

Purpose of Form.—Use Form W-3PR to transmit the original copy of Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR to the Social Security Administration.

Who Must File.—Employers must file Form W-3PR to transmit Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR.

A transmitter or sender (including a service bureau, paying agent, or disbursing agent) may sign Form W-3PR for the employer or payer only if the sender:

(a) Is authorized to sign by an agency agreement (either oral, written, or implied) that is valid under state law; and

(b) Writes "For (name of payer)" next to the signature.

If an authorized sender signs for the payer, the payer is still responsible for filing, when due, a correct and complete Form W-3PR and attachments, and is subject to any penalties that result from not complying with these requirements.

Magnetic Media Filing.—We encourage employers and other payers with computer capability to use magnetic media for filing Form 499R-2/W-2 PR, Withholding Statement. Filers find that reporting on magnetic media saves money, and is efficient and flexible. Sick Pay.—Sick pay paid to an employee by a third party, such as an insurance company or trust, requires special treatment at yearend because the IRS reconciles an employer's quarterly Forms 941-PR with the Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR and W-3PR filed at the end of the year. The following provides general rules on reporting sick pay paid by a third party. For details see Pub. 952, Sick Pay Reporting, for information on reporting sick pay.

Third-party payers.—Because you withheld social security and Medicare tax from persons for whom you do not file Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR, you must file a separate Form W-3PR with a single "dummy" Form 499R-2/W-2 PR that shows the following: "Third-party sick pay" in place of the employee's name (box 1); the total of all sick pay subject to employee social security tax (box 18); the employee social security tax withheld (box 19); the total of all sick pay subject to employee Medicare tax (box 20); and the employee Medicare tax withheld (box 21). On the separate Form W-3PR complete only boxes a, c, d, e, and 7 and 10 through 13.

Employers.—If you had employees who received sick pay in 1995 from an insurance company or other third-party payer, you must report the following on the employee's Form 499R-2/W-2 PR: (a) in box 8, the amount of sick pay the employee must include in income; (b) in box 14, any income tax withheld from the sick pay by the third-party payer; (c) in box 18, the amount of sick pay that is subject to employee social security tax; (d) in box 19, the employee social security tax withheld by the third-party payer; (e) in box 20, the sick pay subject to employee Medicare tax; and (f) in box 21, the employee Medicare tax withheld by the third-party payer.

If any portion of the payment is not includible in the employee's income because the employee paid part of the premiums, you must notify the employee of the excludable portion.

Employers can include these amounts in the Form 499R-2/W-2 PR they issue their employees showing wages, or they can give their employees a separate Form 499R-2/W-2 PR and state that the amounts are for third-party sick pay. In either case, Copy A of Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR must be filed with the Social Security Administration.

Note: If the third-party payer does not notify the employer about sick pay payments timely, the third party is responsible for filing Forms 499R-2/W-2 PR for each employee who received the payments plus Form W-3PR, instead of the employer.
