
The Path to Power

You've done some research and found that there's a way to bind the Elder Gods to your will. You know that the Enlightened Ones has a ritual that requires a human sacrifice in order to appease the Gods, and that the human sacrifice needs to have a pure soul. Your research indicates, however, that after some careful preparatory rituals that involve brief demon possessions and some blood sacrifices, if you were to be the sacrificial victim of the Enlightened Ones's ritual, you would be able to harness the power of the Elder Demons.

Unfortunately, you don't know the rest of the set up, so you'll actually need their cooperation for this. You do know that it requires runes of some sort, though. In order to subvert their ritual, you'll have to convince them to use this as one of their runes:

You've done the preparatory rituals; however, this means that your soul is no longer pure. The Enlightened Ones most certainly has a way of ascertaining if a person's soul is pure or not, so you're going to have to figure out how to convince them to use you as the victim.