

---

Laundry Internal Security

---

*“But who watches the watchmen?”
“Easy: I do.”*

–Samuel Vimes, Discworld

If you have this greensheet, you are a member of the Laundry’s secret Internal Security division. You have been given the authority by the Audit Commission to root out traitors, spies, and other lawbreakers within the Laundry itself.

The existence of Laundry Internal Security itself is a secret. Revealing that secret to the wrong person may cost you your job - or worse. However, finding a trusted ally in a position of authority could make your mission easier. Your task should mostly be accomplished through careful observation. Keep your ears and eyes open, and listen for anything that seems to be out of the ordinary.

Any of the following are violations of the Laundry’s policies. Note that some imply that the suspect is dangerous; exercise caution at all times. Also keep in mind the existence of extenuating circumstances - one may violate the letter of the law while remaining true to the spirit.

- Defecting or attempting to defect from Laundry.
- Mutiny against the lawfully appointed leaders of the Laundry.
- Being an agent of a foreign power.
- Being in possession of a firearm which one is not licensed to carry.
- Possessing, accessing or attempting to access materials or information which one is not cleared for.
- Attempting to tamper with or destroy Laundry equipment.
- Being under demonic influence.
- Using an unapproved summoning method.
- Tampering with one’s records.
- The murder of any being whose soul is native to this plane.

Using the geas described below will determine the truth of an accusation, but it will also reveal that you are a member of Laundry Internal Security. It should only be used to verify something you are already sure of. Abuse of this power could earn you a visit from the Audit Commission, and that’s the last thing you want. Be careful - if a suspect is possessed by a sufficiently powerful demon, this geas could fail to work - or worse. Also note that it will not work on a member of the Black Chamber or a non-human.

Directions

1. Find the person you suspect. Unless you wish to reveal your affiliation to everyone, you should get them alone.
2. Show them your Laundry Internal Security warrant card.
3. Incant the following: “In the name of Claude Dansey and by the authority of the Audit Commission, I hereby exercise subsection four clause seventeen paragraph one of the Official Secrets Act and bind you to answer the question I put to you.”
4. Ask them, “Are you guilty of [crime]?”, where the crime is selected from the above list. They are required to answer “yes” or “no”. If applicable, you should give them a chance to explain extenuating circumstances.

If a person is guilty of a crime, you should restrain them and summon Jeremy or June, either of whom have the authority to arrest and (if they deem it necessary) execute a captive.

Good luck. The fate of the Laundry may be in your hands.