Ritual 1: performed in any hall or room. Instructions for this ritual are given to the Enlightened Ones at packet handout. Green tape is given to the leader of the Enlightened Ones at placement (immediately preceding the start of game). Results of ritual 1:

- Packet found beneath bench in 24-3.
- Packet includes rune1, rune2, Amulet, and instructions for ritual 2
- They tell a GM that ritual 1 is complete, and a demon is summoned from wherever they held the ritual.

Ritual 2: performed on the “windy hilltop.” Results:

- Packet found under chair on hilltop.
- Packet contains rune3, Coral Cirlet, instructions for ritual 3.
- They tell a GM that ritual 2 is complete, and a demon is summoned on the windy hilltop.

Ritual 3: performed around a bunsen burner. Results:

- Packet found under table in 38-1 (in lab).
- Packet contains rune4, Silver Dagger, red tape, next 2 sets of instructions (rituals 4 and 5), and the ability to detect purity of soul (for everyone in the cult).
- They tell a GM that ritual 3 is complete, and a demon is summoned from wherever they held the ritual.

Ritual 4: performed at the sea. Note: this ritual is not necessary, if D’ae’l Cthuper convinces the Enlightened Ones to do things his way. Or possibly her way, depending on casting. Anyway, results:

- Packet found under benches in water area.
- Packet with rune5.
- They tell a GM that ritual 4 is complete, and a demon is summoned from the sea.

Ritual 5: performed anywhere, but with the pentagram. There are two possible pentagrams, the Enlightened Ones version and the efogg version.

- Packet is found under a table in 24-1. Inside this packet, there are two packets, one for each possible outcome.
- If the Enlightened Ones pentagram is used, packet contains 3 purple headbands, and a greensheet telling the Enlightened Ones to take on the Laundry.
- If the efogg memorial pentagram is used, packet contains red headband, greensheet telling him/her to consume souls, starting with the Enlightened Ones soul around him/her.
