

Project No. 7539 - Geometric Wave-Pulse Detonator

These look like the blueprints for some sort of incendiary device. You need to find the parts for it and a source of power. The diagram indicates that it will need a Potentiometric Spatial Grid Projector, an Aquatic Pulse Calibrator, a Dho-Nha Curve Generator, and a Singularity Retention Cube. To power a device of this strength, you'll need a rather...unique source. One of the labs probably has the occult power source you need. Once you find the pieces, someone with research skills will have to spend four minutes putting it together. Also, to stop people from being too suspicious, you need to find a box for it.

[out-of-game: If you've put the device together but don't have a box, the whole thing is two-hands bulky.]
