This e-mail is a short apology to everyone for incorporating changes to the official statement without notifying everyone of what I was doing or who the changes were coming from. Yesterday I worked with Laurence from F-Entry and Deepti, Sana, and Heidi from H-Entry to produce the second draft that I e-mailed out yesterday. At the time I felt that this was okay as those entries - and especially those four people - felt very strongly about the events of the night of in-house rush. This was not okay and amounted to, in essence, an exercise of power that my office does not and should not allow. I apologize profusely for this and will now restrict my actions to simply typing and incorporating changes that have been discussed in an open forum.

Regards,
