

Principle of least privilege

Each component of your system should have only the rights it needs and no more

- Limit damage when things go wrong
- Fewest privileges to parts most likely to fail